Revelation Rappin' Review:

Visions given, lampstands burning;
Letters written, conscience churning;
Heaven opened, Christ is seen!
Seals are broken, horsemen scream.

Prayers are offered, Empires flee;
Glory given, souls set free.

Golden trumpets start to blow,
Plagues and hardships here below;
Satan cast from heaven above,
Loosens demons, starts a flood.

Angels battle, peoples flee;
God declares the victory!
Harlot rides upon the beast,
Gluttony is Empire's feast.
Trinity of darkest night,
Send the faithful into flight.

Heaven sings of God's great love,
Judgment comes with vats of blood.
Then again, with heaven's song,
Bowls of wrath – it won't be long.

Horns and heads and beastly lies,
Cannot balance merchant's cries.
"Fallen, Fallen, Babylon!"
"Hallelujah" is our song.

From the clouds, a white horse flies,
Wearing linen, fiery eyes;
Beast and liar meet their fate,
Burn with sulfur in the lake.

A thousand years, the just will rule;
Nothing vile, foul or cruel;
Priests to God, faithful be;
Golden crowns by glassy sea.

Gog and Magon, evil stored,
Second death and life no more;
Overshadowed by the Son,
Heaven's new, the suffering's done.

Find the water, take the key;
From above God's great city.
Tree of Life with healing balm,
Brings creation into calm.

Never more now tears or pain,
Gates are open, friendships sane.
Keep these words and blessed be,
Our today - eternity.
