Oregon Synod Assembly News

The Oregon Synod Assembly was held in Eugene on May 1-3. Paul Amundson and Pastor Ed were there representing Atonement. A number of reports were heard by various church groups, elections were held for various positions in the synod, a budget was passed, and five resolutions were passed. A summary of those resolutions follow. The full resolutions are posted on the bulletin outside Pastor Ed's office.

An Environment Protection Resolution out of Burns called on "the ELCA in Oregon (to) encourage its members to compassionately divest from funds that support production of fossil fuels and invest in funds that support clean energy and manufacturing ..."

A Representation Resolution from Bethel Lutheran in Portland now adds members of the LGBTQIA community to those who, along with Youth and Persons of Color or whose primary language is other than English, can be sent as additional Assembly Voting Members as individuals from historically under-represented communities in our church.

A Universal Health Care Resolution from members of Augustana Lutheran in Portland calls upon churches to "learn about and support current efforts and legislation in our state to bring a universal, publicly-funded health care system to Oregon."

Through an Oregon Synod Sanctuary Resolution, also from Augustana Lutheran, we in the Oregon Synod have now designated ourselves as a "Sanctuary Synod," "encouraging all congregations to become Sanctuary churches ready to protect refugees and undocumented sisters and brothers from arrest and deportation ..." The Oregon Synod, through this resolution, will also be memorializing the churchwide assembly to designate the ELCA as the nation's first "Sanctuary Denomination."

We at Atonement Lutheran Church reach out with the good news of God's love through Jesus Christ.

As Christ's ministry includes everyone, we, too, welcome persons of any ethnicity, gender identity, race, sexual orientation, marital status, age, economic situation, and physical or mental ability.

We celebrate the gifts each one brings to the life and ministry of this community of faith.

Oregon Synod ... ( continued from page 1 )

Finally, a Synod Assembly Resolution has set aside 2018 as an experimental year for our Synod Assembly format, calling for a single, one-day Assembly and additional, regional, one day, Mission events around the state as a means to engage more members and save on costs.

From the Pastor

Pastor Ed Milliken

Dear Friends in Christ,
The summer months are upon us and they will find many of us "on the road" as we take vacation time with our families, friends, and loved ones. It is a valuable time of renewal, refreshment, and re-creation that our bodies, souls, and spirits need to remain healthy.

The gospel lessons that are upcoming find Jesus also "on the road," but it certainly isn't a vacation that he is on. Jesus began his public ministry at home in Nazareth where, on the Sabbath, he stood to read from the prophet Isaiah: "The Spirit of the Lord is upon me because he has anointed me to bring good news to the poor. He has sent me to proclaim release to the captives and recovery of sight to the blind, to let the oppressed go free, and to proclaim the year of the Lord's favor." The readings for this summer find him journeying through Galilee preaching, teaching, and performing signs that "the kingdom of God has come near you."

Luke would have the Christian community that he is writing to, and us, see Jesus as one who liberates people from any form of oppression or suffering that they may experience in life. The experience of salvation and the bestowal of wholeness and health (the root meaning of salvation) happens when people are healed, fed, welcomed into community, enlightened, relieved of shame, and valued as God's creatures.

The reading for May 29 (Luke 7:1-10), surprises us with the news that these gifts of healing and grace are even available to "outsiders." In this story a Roman centurion stands to lose a highly valued slave to illness and death and, hearing that Jesus is nearby, sends for him asking for his help. Though this Gentile "outsider" admits that he is unworthy of the gifts Jesus brings, Jesus calls him worthy, commends his great faith, and heals his slave.

Further on down the road, Jesus approaches the town of Nain where he meets a funeral procession (Luke 7:11-17). Jesus stops the procession in its tracks with a word – "Do not weep" – and a touch. With another word, "I say to you, rise!" the dead man is restored to life and to community. Where Jesus is present the lowly are shown mercy and the dead are given life.

Even Messiahs have to eat when they are on the road and Luke 7:36-8:3 shows Jesus sharing a meal with a Pharisee. As they were at table a "sinful woman" came and, weeping, anointed Jesus' feet with her tears and dried them with her hair. Responding to the Pharisee's angry reaction, Jesus reminds him and us that the enormity of our sin is surpassed by the mercy of God.

Next, Jesus invites his disciples to get into a boat with him and to go to "the other side" (Luke 8:26-39). This is Gentile territory, where no good, self-respecting Jew should travel. Sure enough, as soon as they get out of the boat, they are met by their worst nightmare: a man terribly possessed by many demons. Jesus heals the man who then become a witness, proclaiming to everyone "all that Jesus had done for him."

Adult Forum News . . . by Pastor Ed

The adult forum is in hiatus for the summer and will resume on September 4th. Pastor Ed is always looking for your ideas as to what you would like to see happen during the adult forum. If you have any ideas or suggestion, please let him know.

Ronald Mohr, Financial Consultant of Thrivent Financial, cordially invites you to attend:

GIVING IS PERSONAL

June 14, 6:30pm-8:00pm at Children's Farm Home Historic School, 4455 NE Hwy 20, Corvallis (between Corvallis and Albany)

We all give, yet how and why we each give is personal.

Learn how a giving partnership can maximize your support to charities and causes that reflect your values, and can also increase your benefits as a donor:

- Make a charitable gift while providing for your family;
- Make a charitable gift and, in turn, receive an ongoing stream of income;
- Create a donor-advised fund to practice family philanthropy;
- Benefit multiple charities with one gift – immediately and in the future; and
- Reduce or eliminate federal estate and gift taxes.

To RSVP, please call (503)362-3074 or email Virgina.Mohr@thrivent.com

InFaith Community Foundation is a national public charity with a mission to help donors and spread joy and change lives through charitable giving, and is independent of Thrivent Financial and its financial representatives. This is a free, educational seminar. No products will be offered for sale at this seminar. Charitable giving can result in significant tax, legal and financial consequences. Because Thrivent Financial and its employees and representatives cannot give legal or tax advice, you are strongly encouraged to consult with your personal legal and tax advisors.

First Friday Lunch Bunch...

Friday June 3rd Agate Beach Golf Course @ 12 noon

Please e-mail or call office if you are able to attend...Thank You!

Finally, on the last Sunday in June, Jesus "turns his face to go to Jerusalem" (Luke 9:51-62), and starts the journey toward his death. In a series of striking statements he calls his disciples, and us, to follow him with a similar single-mindedness. Join us for this Journey with Jesus in the month of June. It will be an adventure!

Family Ministry/Education News

Here is up to date information about Holden Village located near Chelan, Wa. (It is about an 8 hour trip north towards Seattle then East.) There was a huge firestorm last year and they continue to recover. Holden would love to host you if you are willing to work, and recreate and study. The format is arrive on Sunday and leave the next Saturday. The work parties are regrettably limited to adults and kids 16-17 with parents.

There will be work with a variety of skill sets including landscaping, gardening, carpentry, painting, sewing and general sprucing up. Recreation includes, Holden Store, Snack Bar, Craft, Pottery shop variety shows and more. Study sessions focus on the two major transformation Holden Village and the Railroad Creek Valley eco-system. Space is limited, apply now.

Week 1: June 19-25    Week 2: June
Week 3: July 3-9      Week 4: July 10-16
Week 5: July 17-23    Week 6: July 24-30
Week 7: July 31-August 6
Week 9: August 14-20

Here is the Holden story for those who do not know Holden. The Holden Village trips Atonement have made "eternal" memories for those who have north. Talk to Donna or Pastor Ed or Marian or Marylou for personal stories.

"Once a mining town and now a robust center for renewal—a Lutheran ministry welcoming all people into the wilderness to be called, equipped and sent by God. The center of our lives at Holden is the Good News of Jesus Christ. Our work is to welcome people in, allow them to open their lives to that Good News and take it with them as they return to their lives in the world.

The Village's ministry has been continuous for more than 50 years. Now we are in a unique era, a time of remediating the environmental scars left from mining and an opportunity for the Village to renew its infrastructure and facilities. During this time we will be able to accommodate guests only in winter months (approximately late November to May 1). During construction season, May 1 to late November, we joyously welcome volunteers who want to help with Village Renewal.

Please spend some time exploring our website and consider exploring the Village and adjacent Glacier Peak Wilderness in person. If you have further questions, just contact us."

Thank you,
Rhonda Harman

Prayer & Bible Study

Please join us on Monday afternoons each week for prayer /meditation and bible study. 1:00pm—3:00pm in Narthex

Stewardship ... by Paul Amundson

For those of you who don't have a clue as to what stewardship means, it's having the responsibility for planning and managing the use of resources. In our case we often assume all of what we have really belongs to God and we're just managing it for Him. For my purpose here it means how well we use the money you have given us to run the activities of our church and the state and worldwide ELCA.

I thought I'd explore a bit about how stewardship went in Abraham's day. At one point in his life Abraham was leading an army for a king. He won a big battle and gave a tithe to the king. That was his version of managing the king's resources.

After some time doing this Abraham got old and moved on. He was doing very well in his new digs so he made a practice of welcoming travelers. Perhaps this was along the line of being a good manager of God's resources, but it usually went along the lines of "Slaughter the fatted calf, boys. It's party time."

I think this falls under the general heading of "Any excuse for a party". And even though the guests got the best of the best -- the fatted parts and the bone marrow -- everyone benefited. All of Abraham's crew looked forward to having travelers drop by.

We continue Abraham's welcoming practice here at Atonement throughout the year but most especially we do this in the summertime. We slaughter the fatted calf, the fatted hog, and the fatted tuna for our "all are welcome" summer BBQs.

We're being good stewards of your money by being a welcoming church. Invite your friends. Invite everyone! I know we'll all enjoy the "any excuse for a party" experience.

Library Committee ... by Lois Greenwood

Dietrich Bonhoeffer, A Life in Pictures, edited by Renate Bethge and Christian Gremmels, is one of many interesting biographies in our parish,

Born in Germany in 1906, one of eight children, including a twin sister, Dietrich had a happy, love-filled childhood. His family was filled with a bevy of doctors, lawyers, teachers, and artists, providing him with a rich cultural background. A brilliant student himself, he earned a doctorate in theology by the time he was 21. Working as a pastor, youth leader, speaker, and writer, he soon became quite well known.

Alarmed that Hitler's Third Reich was rapidly dominating the German church in the 1930's, he became quite vocal about this, and also helped many Jews and other non-Aryans to escape Germany. He was instrumental in organizing the bishops and other clergy who would not accept Hitler's authority, which put him on a dangerous path. Although he left the country several times on speaking tours and teaching engagements and could have remained safe, he always returned to Germany.

Dietrich was finally arrested in April 1943 on charges of being part of a conspiracy to assassinate Hitler. He spent many months in prison, writing and helping other prisoners, and he was finally hanged April 5, 1945, just a few weeks before the war ended in Europe.

This book contains a great many photographs and copies of letters with just enough text to hold the history together. Dietrich was quite an ordinary looking person, but if you have ever wondered what a real TRUE Super-Hero looks like, read this book.

Ponderings from the President ... By Susan Painter

Rico

My friend, Rico, died this week. He was 58 years old.

He wasn't always my friend. Originally, he was my client. Locked up when we met, he was charged with a series of bank robberies in the summer of 1980. The federal court appointed me to represent him.

Rico was a prisoner most of his life. Born in Puerto Rico [his unlikely middle name was "Angel"] he came to the mainland as an infant. His parents separated early in his life and his mother abandoned him, leaving a permanent scar in a life eventually full of scars. With no role models and no guidance, he was in and out of school, a "problem child," hard to manage, aggressive, thoughtless.

In a route that was never clear to me, he bounced from New Jersey to Ohio and eventually to Oregon. At 17, a juvenile court judge sent him to adult court to be tried for a series of robberies. A few months after turning 18, he received two sentences of 20 years in the state penitentiary. I met him, a few years later, after he had managed to walk away from prison, develop a heroin habit, and rob banks to support the habit.

Despite his past, Rico was friendly and had a quirky sense of humor. But he wasn't a very good bank robber: he had torn yellow pages from the telephone book found in his car. He checked banks he'd robbed in red. His explanation? "I didn't want to rob the same one twice!"

He'd never had much chance at life, and he was always grateful for my visits and the time I took to explain things to him.

With no choice but a plea of guilty for at least a few of the banks, in exchange for dismissal of others, he received a sentence of thirty years. His only comment: "This ruined my whole day."

Over the years, the prison buses ["diesel therapy"] took him from one harsh penitentiary to another. He kept in touch with funny cards and letters, though he no longer needed my legal help. The institutions provided little education or job training, but when Rico was finally freed around 2000 or 2001, he called proudly to tell me of his first real job: translating for a car dealership in a largely Hispanic rural community. But a rigid 21st century probation officer's rules, based on expectations foreign to inmates of the early '80's, were too much. Rico went back to heroin, was caught and returned to prison.

Released again about five years ago, he'd suffered permanent damage from exposure to asbestos in the old Salem prison. Soon he was tethered to an oxygen tank and moving around in a wheelchair. He was sad but resigned; his sense of humor remained, and he had become a quieter, gentler man. The young punk of his 20's had an uncommon sensitivity; when I visited him in his small, sparse room, I found him caring for a half dozen goldfish he'd found "for company."

We stayed in touch over these past few years. We talked about his years in prison and the life he'd led. I thought often of the contrast between us: I had a nurturing family, community support, the blessing of wise choices. He had none of those; adrift from the beginning, he was a lost sheep. The institutions designed to punish him never offered rehabilitation or second chances. His one good job had given him a hope for redemption, but an indifferent system snatched that away and took his health too.

Rico's life grew more difficult as his health failed, but he was never bitter.

50th Anniversary ... MaryLou Mate

Thank You to all for participating in the 50th Anniversary Celebration

May 15th`s special church service and celebration program was memorable and fun! So many folks helped in so many ways. Thank you to: dreamers and planners and organizers, address sleuths, food shoppers and preparers, greeters, cookie makers, interviewers, typists, photo providers and film copiers, keeper of RSVP numbers and party goers.

Our mission statement is REACHING OUT WITH GOD`S LOVE and you continue to do that. Last Tuesday we donated:

1. $1,000 to Samaritan House Homeless Family Shelter for the purchase of bunk beds and bedding;
2. $750 to Newport Food Share for the purchase of a garden shed;
3. $750 to Lincoln County Food Pantry to buy a freezer.

Soon our church will have signage on the east and north sides. Our main cross sign with reader board is not totally funded as yet. We appreciate all who have contributed.

Grant`s Court is named after Grant Wallin. Jim and Judy Wallin and their three boys were active in our congregation in the 80`s and all three boys were confirmed at Atonement. Grant was a well known high school athlete. He died from a freak accident on the first anniversary of his marriage. His family donated the funds for the basketball court in his memory.

If you took photos at the celebration and would like to share them, please leave them with Raynette during office hours or put them in MaryLou's or Marian's mailbox. Atonement is a very special congregation and definitely "Made A Joyful Noise" at the 50th Celebration.

Ponderings from the President ... (continues from page 7)

He still called, told me I shouldn't work so hard, wished me greetings of the season at holidays. I wondered how his life might have been different if he'd had the guidance and love that he missed as a youngster.

The night before Rico died, his doctor came for one last visit. His caregiver had become a friend, and she was with him when he died. She called me the next morning. She said he was already missed in his small community. He had touched lives and brought joy in his own, final way.

I thought, inexplicably, of the words of the fox in The Little Prince, "Men have forgotten this truth...you become responsible, forever, for what you have tamed." We didn't handle that responsibility for Rico very well. The Lord will do much better.

Rest in peace, my friend.

Social Ministry Committee

Food for Food Share Program ... by Terri McCulley

for all the support we have received for this program. Anything is welcome and helpful, but this month we will focus on Tuna.

Stone Soup ... June 27, 2016

We host the Stone Soup Kitchen at St. Stephens Church, for those who need a meal. If you are able to help, there will be a sign-up sheet on bulletin board in the Narthex (usually by 3rd week of the month).

Randy's Read & Feed ... by Sally Jennings

Our next Randy's Feed & Read program will be hiatus for June, July and August.

Health Ministry Committee ... by Terri Homer

Please mark your calendars and save the date. On July 17th after our 11:00 am service the Health Ministry Committee invites you to join us on a beautiful walk on BIG CREEK Trail. We will be leaving from the Agate Beach Wayside parking lot for our walk. More details to follow. Before we go for our walk, we'll share a small lunch at the church and then head off to burn those calories! We hope you'll join us for this summer activity.

Summer BBQ

June 22nd, July 27th and August 24th @ 6:00pm.

Please join us for our great summer BBQ's on We will have good food, great fellowship, and lots of fun is in store. Mark your calendar and don't miss out.

We provide the entrée. Potluck for the Salads, Breads, and Desserts.

A Sign-up sheets is posted on the bulletin board for volunteers who can help with the BBQ. Thank You!
